Nails rule firm in the Chicago market at 25 rates.

The Street Railway Company has declared a dividend of 3 per cent. for the last six months.

The drift of public opinion to-day is decidedly towards John Sherman for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1880.

The Moffet bell-punch and a dog tax are the methods proposed in Georgia to raise money for the support of public schools.

The co-operative glass factory at Beaver Falls is in full operation, turning out a fine grade of glassware, with very encouraging prospects of success.

Gen. EWING is now supported by Ohio Democratic newspapers which, by a general order in 1864, he excluded from the army on account of their treasonable sentiments. However, that's all right.

The Atlanta Constitution says the Democrats have, for three successive campaigns, sought New York for the head of the ticket, and get cleaned out every time, and thinks it about time to look for better luck somewhere else.

The Democracy charge Mr. Foster with the heinous crime of being a banker. On the other hand, their candidate is a bankrupt who seeks to retrieve his own misfortunes through a financial scheme more absurd than John Law's Mississippi bubble.

The Commercial Circular of R.G. Dun & Co. for the first half of this year shows a large falling off in the number of failures as compared with last year, and a healthy reaction in the way of business. But one failure is reported from West Virginia for the quarter ending June 30th, with liabilities amounting to $6,000.

How JOHN H. ATKINSON, of Hancock County, was in town yesterday. He says that crops up that way, with the exception of potatoes, are turning out tolerably well. The potatoes up there do not look as well as the crop down this way. A small insect in the shape of a plant louse is doing a good deal of harm.

Some of our Jewish brethren seem disposed to agitate the question of Sunday observance instead of Saturday in their general convention at New York. The time has not come for such a movement to meet with general favor among them, but it is one of the things that will assume great importance hereafter. This is an age of radical change and innovation, and the complete unification of the Jews and Gentiles is altogether probable at some distant day.

THE VICTOR NAPOLEON, the seventeen-year-old son of Prince Jerome, and the new heir to the Bonapartist idea, is rather tall, handsome and straight as a dart; dark in hair, cheek and eye; and in temper and temperament a true Corsican. His features are regular, his hair is trained over his brow and cropped, and he has his mother's mouth, though not the peculiar nose of the House of Savoy. He is said to be a thorough Napoleon in looks, in character and in a certain fiery impetuosity of temper.

The defection of Mr. Hendricks causes a most serious disturbance in the calculations of Mr. Tilden for 1880. The fact is that in order to secure his nomination in 1878 Mr. Tilden promised to support the nomination of Mr. Hendricks in 1880, and after a bargain of this kind the order of battle was arranged. Mr. Hendricks now demands that the bargain with him be carried out, while Mr. Tilden claims that the eight-by-seven decision of the Electoral Commission ought to operate as a waiver of any promise made at the time of his nomination. This unfortunate difference of opinion between these gentlemen has been widened by the violence of injudicious friends. The result is that neither Tilden nor Hendricks will have a dominating strength in the Democratic National Convention, and a way is opened for a better man than either.

In the newspapers of this country could have the disposition of Bishop Hayes we think they would at least depict him from the high office which he holds in his church, on account of the absurd manner in which he carries on when he touches politics, which, by the way, is quite often. He not only goes in for Grant for a third term, but he goes in for making him an anointed ruler. For instance, in his Fourth of July speech he said:

"The church officials must appoint the ruler or the people will not allow him to rule. He must receive the sacrament before he can be crowned. The preacher, not the judge, makes him ruler. He is the servant of the church, and thus only can they reign. How different our inauguration, where only the head of the court administers the oath, and never a clergyman is called to consecrate the chief."

The next move of Haven will probably be in the direction of the dogma of infallibility, which teaches that all civil power should be subordinate to ecclesiastical authority.

A STEAMBOAT excursion from Baltimore to Fair Haven was advertised for last Sunday. Sunday excursions involve labor, and Sunday labor is forbidden by law in Baltimore. The Society of Law and Rights determined to enforce the law and prevent the excursion. But the captain of the good steamer winked his weather-eye and went on selling tickets just the same. On Sunday morning he marched down from the postoffice carrying a small bag containing seven letters directed to Fair Haven. At the bow of the steamer was displayed a flag bearing the potential letters "U. S. M." in white on a blue ground. Five hundred persons with excursion tickets went down on the steamer to see those seven letters promptly delivered to the postmaster at Fair Haven, and came back as guards of the three letters sent in return. As it is a high crime and

JEFF DAVIS' GOOD LUCK.

An Admiring Southern Woman Leaves Him a Valuable Estate.

NEW ORLEANS, July 8.—It is learned that the late Mrs. Sarah A. Dorsey, of Mississippi, who died in this city last week, leaves a will bequeathing her whole estate to Jefferson Davis. In making this bequest, Mrs. Dorsey refers to the great services and sacrifices of Mr. Davis on behalf of the South, and reproves his countrymen for their failure in gratitude and appreciation for such services. She bequeathed the small contribution which she is able to make for his relief. The estate embraced in this legacy includes two large plantations in the upper part of the State, and about sixty brick houses on the farm, the southeast, where Mr. Davis is now sojourning, the climate and situation of which have proved especially favorable to Mr. Davis' health and his present occupation of study and labor in the preparation of his book, "The Life of Jefferson Davis." This legacy of Mrs. Dorsey will make the circumstances of Mr. Davis quite easy and comfortable.

Everything seems to be "booming" in the Connellsville coke region, and we are constantly hearing of additional ovens being built. All ovens are now in blast. H. C. Another block of fifty coke ovens, making 170 in all, will be built by the Hutchinson Bros. The capacity of Ferguson's coke works at Dunbar is to be increased by the addition of thirty ovens. This will make the number 100. It is said the Mt. Braddock coke works will be compelled to suspend for want of water.

"No chance at all."

"I do. Ewing is the most popular man in Ohio. Foster is a cold, impassive man, and don't shake hands with the people. Charles Foster is just the other way."

"Then it is a sure thing for the Republican ticket?"

"No; I wouldn't say it's cock sure, because it's going to be a close fight. But I believe Charles Foster is sure to win, and the Republican party is determined he shall."

"How will John Sherman run for President?"

THE AMERICAN CHURCHES.

The Measure of the Propaganda in Rome Concerning It.

St. Louis, July 9.—The American, a German daily published in this city, will tomorrow contain the latest document of the Propaganda in Rome concerning the organization of the Catholic Church in the United States. This document, the genuineness of which is vouched for by prominent Western Bishops, declares:

First.—That the instructions of July 20, 1878, do not apply to the transfer of priests from one congregation to another, the decree of the Second Council of Baltimore remaining intact. In this respect Bishops it is true, shall take care not to transfer priests against their will from one mission to another without grave cause, but only in case of the final deposition of a priest from office, is previous consultation of a newly created council obligatory.

Second.—That even if an election of new counselors or judges is done in the Synod, the election of the same properly belongs to the Bishop, and the vote of the Synod is merely consultative. If the election is done in the Synod, it belongs absolutely to the Bishop; but if the choice is made to fill vacancies, it is becoming that the Bishop should first hear the vote of the religious community.

Third.—That the vote of new counselors is always consultative, the definite decision being reserved to the Bishop; but the vote and opinion of counselors must always be inserted in the proceedings.

Fourth.—That by the instructions of the Propaganda of July 20, 1878, the extraordinary power of the Bishop to suspend a priest by reason of very important cause and urgent necessity is not interfered with. It is lawful for any priest to bring before the Council another priest, subject to the approval of the Bishop, either as his assistant or superior.

This document is signed by Cardinal Simeoni, Perfect of Propaganda, and J. B. Agnelli, Secretary of the same congregation.

Catholic Total Abstinence Society.

Tiffin, O., July 9.—The eighth annual Convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union, of Ohio, met here today. About fifty delegates were present, representing ten societies. The following officers were elected: President, J. F. Gallagher, of Cleveland; Vice Presidents, Rev. W. J. Fitzgerald, of Cleveland; Rev. T. H. Sidney, of Springfield; Rev. T. J. Lane, of Athens. Secretary, Daniel Boyle, of Springfield. Treasurer, Wm. A. Manning, of Cleveland. Adjourned to meet at Bellefontaine on the fourth Wednesday in July, 1880.

SCULLING AT SARATOGA.

Yesterday's Regatta.

SARATOGA, July 9.—The weather and lake are all that could be desired for the regatta, which was opened with a fair start. One Zephyr pair didn't start and the other Zephyr pair gave out before reaching the end of the course. The race was won by the Olympic in 9:41; Walrus, second, 9:57; The wash from the first boat made it useless for the Zephyrs (Detroit) to continue in the contest, and Walrus (Saginaw) becoming entangled in the grass, when ahead, near the finish. The Olympics won of course.

The college contest was left to Cornell alone and a mile and a half was made in 9:35. Lewis, of Cornell, had the college single to himself also, and he covered a mile and a half in 1:34.

The first trial heat of Seneca was won by Murray, of the Elizabeth club, in 1:35; the second trial heat by R. W. Rathbun, of New York, in 1:13; and the third trial heat by Holmes in 1:03:33.

On the six o'clock race, for the nut club, of Boston, Mutual club, of Albany, and Dauntless club, of New York, started, the last boat carrying the coxswain. The Mutual won, Sanson second, and Shamut third. Time, 8:50, 9:03, and 9:11.

Convict Labor in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, June 9.—The Board of Directors of the Penitentiary have issued the following order: That all orders heretofore made allowing contractors a credit of three months be and are hereby revoked, and that from and after July 1st, 1879, all said contractors will be required to pay into the State Treasury on or before the 15th day of each month the sum of $100,000 for convict labor for the preceding month.

The custom of giving time to contractors has resulted disastrously to the State. The Directors believe that the low rates paid for convict labor has been a great detriment to the State. This action will also materially lessen the risk of loss to the State. At the commencement of the fiscal year there were accounts in the hands of the Attorney General for a portion of the convict labor collected, but there still remain accounts outstanding due the State amounting to upward of $50,000 for convict labor which was secured at very low rates. The present price paid for convict labor ranges from 40 to 70 cents per day per man, the average being 45 cents per day.

Chastine Cox's Insanity Dodge.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Chastine Cox, the negro murderer of Mrs. Jane De Forest Hull, has begun a series of antics in his cell in the Tombs, which lead the keepers to believe that he is pursuing the advice of the law, and is endeavoring to get him off on the plea of insanity. He has picked at his wool, and has slung it with fire, and has braided lengths of it, saying that he designed it for a watch chain for his best friend. His manner has completely changed, and he is now regularly taking communion with her. The interest and commotion with her. She asked some talk, but was generally approved.

Family Troubles Ending in Murder.

MCLENTINE, IOWA, July 9.—Wm. Teets, a well known and respectable farmer living ten miles southwest of here, was murdered yesterday afternoon with a club in the hands of Wm. Pickering. The cause of the act seems to have been a family trouble. The murdered man, Teets, was a son-in-law of Mrs. Dickinson, a widow woman who employed Pickering as a farm hand on her estate, and between whom the improper intimacy has been charged, and receiving no freight at all on ballast and paying to discharge it when here. The ore is for Pittsburgh.

Spanish Ore for Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Two English steamers have just discharged over 3,500 tons of Spanish ore from Gijon, at Hoboken. They receive two dollars and a half freight per ton, which is thought better than receiving no freight at all on ballast and paying to discharge it when here. The ore is for Pittsburgh.

New York, July 9.—The second day's session of the Hebrew National Convention opened this morning. Chairman Hackenburgh presiding. After prayer Rev. D. Lowenthal presented a report in reference to a Hebrew Union College. Rev. Dr. Sonnenschein brought forward the subject of liberalism in colleges. He wanted Hopkins College, of Baltimore, which he characterized as one of the most liberal institutions of learning in the land, included in the list of colleges. Dr. Lowenthal spoke against it and the committee's report was adopted as presented.

Later from Horatio Seymour was read on the subject of agriculture, recommending the Israelites acquainted with the arts of husbandry to leave the crowded cities for the fertile fields of the West. Dr. Adolph Huebner, of New York, also addressed the Convention on the subject of training and education of rabbis. This was followed by a discussion on the report regarding the observance of the Sabbath.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
The special committee reported that it was impossible now to establish a female seminary for want of sufficient funds, to which Dr. Lowenthal offered an amendment that a committee be appointed to consider the advisability of establishing two self-sustaining schools, one for boys and one for girls, under the sanction of the Council, to report at the next yearly meeting. The report as amended was adopted.

The report of the Committee on Circuit Preaching was adopted, excepting the services of volunteer ministers to deliver addresses to organize schools in cities and towns where communities are not strong enough to maintain schools without aid; and an agent be designated to visit the cities to which ministers are not assigned.

After some discussion, the report of the special committee relative to the opening of avenues for the employment and residence of Israelites in the agricultural districts of the country, was made the special order for to-morrow.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

LONDON, July 9.—The House of Commons last night despite some objections by the Government voted 76 to 56 in favor of the establishment of the Department of Agriculture and Commerce under a special Cabinet Minister.

In the House of Lords the Irish University bill was read a second time. Lord Cairns while opposing the direct endowment of denominational institutions pointed out that the University of London received some thousands yearly for the purpose of rewarding those who pass examinations, which is open to all comers. He said he was sure if the Senate of the University were to come to the Parliament and say, that in order to advance education, it would be advisable to offer exhibitions and rewards, no objection would be taken on denominational grounds.

The Times considers that this is a plain intimation to the Catholics to get their University first, and ask for money afterwards. This opens a prospect of a settlement of the University question on the lines of the Intermediate education act passed last year.
